Superintendent

My most sincere appreciation to each of you that have worked to preserve the history of this school year. You have enabled all of us to remember the happiness that was ours to share. It is my prayer that each student in our school has grown from the results of the efforts given to gain educational excellence. May this year and the years to come be filled with the use of the educational tools that you have gained to make your life happy and successful.

Ben W. Cobb

Principal

Throughout history education has enabled man to master his environment and to develop to the fullest his potentialities as a human being.

It is through education that civilization develops and moves forward.

In today's world education is unquestionably our greatest natural resource. It is essential for national security and world peace. It is basic to the successful functioning of our political, social, and economic systems.

Education will enable us to continue the march of scientific development. Only through education can we hope to master the new forces unleashed by our advancing technology.

Education is vital to the survival of freedom and it may even mean the survival of mankind.

Harvest Carnival

This year instead of a Halloween Carnival, the PTC sponsored a Harvest Carnival. All classes participated in a money making project. The Seniors had the football toss, the Juniors — the ring toss, the Sophomores — the dart throw, and the Freshmen — the milk bottle throw. The Junior High sold raffle tickets. With everyone's help the Harvest Carnival was a huge success.

Hillbilly Weddin'

Presented by the Class of 1981

Hillbilly Weddin' is a 3-act play written by Le Roma Greth. The play takes place in the main room of the Belsnickle mountain cabin in the Kentucky hills. Paw Belsnickle is a man with a problem. Rather SIX Problems — in the form of six unmarried daughters. Juney Lou, his third daughter is a pretty girl who wants to marry Homer Upschlager. Since he wants to marry her, at first glimpse the solution may seem simple. But no! Maw Belsnickle had decided Juney Lou cannot be married until Ceelie, a ripe old nineteen, and Bonnie Mae, the bookworm, are safely married off. She wants Paw to find husbands for them. Ceelie decides to marry Ronald Maxwell. Just as the weddin' begins Obeey Upschlager enters and says he wants to marry Ceelie, and Ceelie agrees. The weddin' is almost over and Bonnie Mae starts to cry and says she wants to go to the city and become a nurse. Paw and Maw let her go with the Maxwell's because Paw is tired of looking for husbands for his daughters.

So, You Want Your Portrait Made Deep in the Amazon Jungle ... Why Not?

The best portraits are made in surroundings that are comfortable. So, if the only place you really feel comfortable is deep in the heart of the Amazon Jungle with a boa constrictor slithering down a limb in the background . . . we'll go there. We know portrait studios aren't always the best place to make portraits, so we make the entire world our studio . . . in your backyard, in your den or Anchorage, Alaska . . . if it's more comfortable for you . . . we'll go there. Naturally, if we go to the Amazon jungle, the picture will cost more . . . but shouldn't your portrait be something more than just a mug shot?
